EXTERIOR

Alloy Yachts' Fortune Elephant, a Masterpiece Born from New Zealand Craftsmanship In the late 1990s, Alloy Yachts—already renowned for their pioneering use of aluminum and luxury yacht innovation— embarked on a project that would showcase their engineering prowess and commitment to bespoke excellence: the creation of Fortune Elephant. Launched in 1997 from their Auckland shipyard, this 35.05-meter motor yacht is the only Sheerline 115 model ever built, making her a unique offering in the world of superyachts.

Design and Performance: Setting New Standards

Fortune Elephant was designed by the acclaimed Warwick Yacht Design team, who handled every aspect from naval architecture to interior styling. Her sleek, planing aluminum hull and superstructure not only provides lightweight strength but also delivered impressive speed and efficiency. With twin MTU diesel engines generating a combined 5,200 horsepower, she could reach a top speed of 28 knots and comfortably cruise at 25 knots—outpacing many of her contemporaries in the 35-40 meter range. Her range of 1,900 nautical miles at 10 knots meant she can undertake significant passages without compromise, while her 7.4-meter beam offers generous interior volume (280 GT), surpassing the average for yachts in her class.

Luxury and Comfort: A Floating Sanctuary

Inside, Fortune Elephant is crafted for both relaxation and entertainment. She can accommodate up to 12 guests in 6 suites, with 5 crew members ensuring every need is met. The yacht’s interior, finished to the highest standards, features expansive living areas, sophisticated entertainment systems, and amenities such as air conditioning and a teak deck for comfort.

A Symbol of Prestige and Exclusivity

Fortune Elephant quickly established herself as a symbol of exclusivity and prestige. Her unique design and exceptional performance makes her stand out in the global fleet, ranking in the top 30% by length overall. A Proven

Pedigree, a Coveted Asset Fortune Elephant is highly sought after, not only for her New Zealand pedigree but also for her proven reliability and timeless design. She is currently flagged in Thailand and available for inspections at Phuket Yacht Haven, a testament to her enduring appeal in Asia's vibrant yachting scene. Her story continues to inspire yacht enthusiasts and collectors worldwide, representing the pinnacle of Alloy Yachts' legacy of excellence.
Alloy Yachts: One of the Benchmarks in Custom Superyachts

The story of Fortune Elephant is the story of Alloy Yachts itself—a shipyard that set new benchmarks for custom luxury, performance, and innovation. Each Alloy yacht, and especially Fortune Elephant, is a testament to what happens when visionary clients, master designers, and world-class craftsmen come together to create something truly extraordinary.
