VALQUEST is a 40m full aluminum meter Sailing Yacht built by Bloemsma Van Breemen in the Netherlands at their Makkum shipyard. Her interior is styled by British designer design house Dubois and she was completed in 2009.

VALQUEST is a performance cruising yacht distinguished by her sleek aesthetics, featuring a silver metallic hull, a streamlined low-profile wheelhouse, and an uncluttered, flush deck. Engineered for extended bluewater passages, she boasts high-capacity fuel tanks and generous stowage solutions to support long-range autonomy.

Below deck, VALQUEST offers a contemporary interior design characterized by high-gloss mahogany joinery paired with white leather upholstery. The semi-open, split-level saloon layout maximizes natural light and visual continuity, creating a spacious, inviting environment for both socializing and dining.

Accommodation is configured across four ensuite cabins: a full-beam master suite, two double staterooms, and one twin cabin—each appointed with premium fixtures and finishes to ensure guest comfort and privacy.

On deck, the yacht is optimized for outdoor living. The aft cockpit is sheltered for al fresco dining, while expansive lounging areas amidships and forward provide options for sunbathing or relaxing in the shade under the retractable forward canopy.

She is powered by 1 Caterpillar engine, which give her a cruising speed of 11.0 kn and a top speed of 13.0 kn. The yacht has a range of 3000 n/m nautical miles at a speed of 11.0 kn. The yacht carries 18,045 liters of fuel on board.
