ABOUT

Boston Whaler 230 Dauntless

The 2013 Boston Whaler 230 Dauntless is a versatile, go-anywhere center console that brings the legendary Whaler reputation to a perfectly manageable size. Powered by a Mercury 250 HP Verado, this boat has the muscle to cruise comfortably across Boston Harbor, run up the coast, or make quick work of getting to your favorite fishing grounds. Hydraulic steering, electric trim tabs, and digital engine instrumentation make for a smooth and confident ride.

Fishing is right at home aboard the 230 Dauntless, with rod holders, integrated storage, and a deep-V fiberglass hull that gives you a solid platform when conditions get sporty. The stainless-steel bow rail, hardware, anchor locker, and stainless-steel anchor add durability and practicality, while the integrated swim platform and boarding ladder make getting in and out of the water easy.

When you're ready to switch from fishing to cruising, the comfortable bow seating with cushions, helm and passenger seating, and marine-grade upholstery give everyone a great place to settle in. The center-console compartment provides additional storage and space for a portable head, while the Fusion marine stereo and cockpit speakers make it easy to enjoy some music while cruising around the harbor.

Whether you're grabbing lunch along the waterfront, cruising past the Boston Harbor Islands, heading toward Castle Island, or making your way up toward Nahant and Cape Ann, the 2013 Boston Whaler 230 Dauntless is built to make the most of New England boating. With a powerful 250 Verado, GPS/chart plotter, VHF radio, depthsounder, and plenty of comfortable seating, it's a well-rounded boat that's equally at home fishing, cruising, or simply enjoying a summer day on the water.
