ABOUT

Angus

LOCATION

Charlevoix County, Michigan, United States

ANGUS is a rare 1939 50' steel Burger motor yacht representing one of the finest surviving examples of early American yacht building. Originally built as a private yacht by Burger Boat Company, she later served in a research role at Grand Valley State University, operating exclusively on the freshwater of Lake Michigan.

She retains her original Kahlenberg 4-cylinder diesel engine, fully operational, and has benefited from a Burger-led restoration/preservation program (2011–2012) followed by meticulous mechanical recommissioning by her current owner.

Cruising comfortably at 9–10 knots, ANGUS is presented in highly original, mechanically authentic condition, offering a unique opportunity to acquire a historically significant, operational classic.
