ABOUT

Noral

LOCATION

Miami, Florida, United States

Noral, a 2011 830 Ferretti that is truly in a league of her own. She has been kept under cover and in brackish water since she was launched in 2011. I sold the boat new in February of 2011 to her first owner and then to her second and current owner in 2013. She has been captain/crew maintained by the same crew for over a decade and kept out of the sun and salt water her whole life! The gelcoat, teak decks and original cushions not to mention her like new interior look like they have just come from the factory. She only has 1200 hours of original use with the 1000 hour MTU service being complete. She has also just had a full engine/generator fluid and filter service. Both Kohler generators only have 1600 original hours. Everything on this boat works as it should.

This is a very rare opportunity to buy a used yacht in impeccable condition. Replacement value on this boat would be $8.5M! Her slip, hurricane storage plan and captain are available to "go with the boat" as well. This is truly a turn key yachting experience.
