GENERAL DESCRIPTION

2001 Mako 201 Center Console – a reliable and versatile fishing boat powered by a single Evinrude 150HP outboard. Perfect for offshore and inshore fishing, this Mako 201 features a durable fiberglass hull, spacious deck layout, and classic Mako handling that anglers trust. With plenty of room for gear and passengers, it’s ideal for both serious fishing trips and recreational boating adventures. Don’t miss the chance to own this well-built, console at an exceptional value.

ACTUAL CONDITION

Check out this 2001 Mako 201 Center Console, a solid boat ready for your next fishing adventure. The hull is built strong, showing normal wear for its age, and with a little TLC, it’ll shine like new. Perfect for both offshore and inshore trips, this Mako delivers the classic handling anglers love. No trailer included, but we invite you to visit the yard and see this boat in person, you won’t be disappointed!

ENGINE(S) CONDITION

This Evinrude E-TEC 150 HP outboard has only 73 total operating hours since mid-2025, making it essentially near-new in service time. Usage data shows over 56% of runtime at idle or trolling speeds (under 1200 RPM), reflecting very light, low-stress operation.

Diagnostics from the Engine Management Module confirm a clean bill of health with no active faults or mechanical issues. Temperature history shows consistent operation within factory specifications with no overheating events.

The engine is configured for Evinrude XD100 synthetic oil, providing improved lubrication, reduced emissions, and enhanced long-term internal protection.

A clean, low-hour, well-cared-for outboard ready for immediate use.
