ABOUT

Ducale 120

LOCATION

Fort Lauderdale, Florida, United States

The motor yacht Ducale 120, designed by VYD studio, represents the perfect blend of smart naval engineering and exquisite design aimed to immerse in the sea's essence from every vantage point aboard, unobstructed by interior furnishings or structural elements. This ambition led to an extensive FEM (Finite Element Method) analysis, optimizing the yacht's structure to eliminate any barriers to the owner's initial request.

Achieving this vision, the yacht stands as a marvel without external or internal supports, the few internal ones ingeniously concealed within compartment walls. Its design features enormous floor-to-ceiling windows supported by custom-designed structural elements, glass bulwarks, and vast cantilevered decks that offer sun protection below and expansive living spaces above.

The yacht's steel hull was meticulously engineered for performance, ensuring low fuel consumption and minimal resistance while maintaining onboard comfort stability, both at anchor and while cruising, especially important considering the transoceanic 5,000 nautical miles of range. Additionally, a comprehensive insulation package was developed to guarantee absolute silence in all cabins, achieving exceptional noise and vibration reduction.

Accommodations onboard are generously appointed, with guest quarters designed for superior comfort and crew spaces that are well beyond the industry's standards. The yacht's operational areas, including the state-of-the-art engine room and command bridge, are equipped with the latest technology, ensuring performance, efficiency and ease of navigation.

With its blend of robust construction and refined design, the Ducale 120 stands as a yacht of luxury and adventure.
