ABOUT

Princess S65

LOCATION

Mandelieu-la-Napoule,
Provence-Alpes-Cote-d'Azur, France

Designed in collaboration with naval architects Olesinski and Italian design house Pininfarina, the S65 combines elegant exterior styling with sporty performance. Its ingenious design incorporates a large sunroof, flooding the saloon and lower helm station with natural light and fresh air—perfect for open-air cruising. On approach, the S65 impresses with its electro-hydraulic teak bathing platform and a tender garage capable of accommodating a Williams 345. The cockpit features U-shaped seating, a dining area with a folding teak table, and an aft sunpad.

A staircase with teak steps leads up to the spacious sportbridge, offering sweeping views of the horizon. Here, a table converts into a generous sunbathing area, allowing guests to relax while experiencing the S65's responsive handling and smooth ride.

Inside, the welcoming main-deck saloon provides a relaxing setting, complete with a U-shaped sofa, coffee table, and sideboard. The entertainment system includes a 55-inch UHD LED television and a marine audio system. The dining area features L-shaped seating, a folding dining table, and cup holders, while a stainless-steel sliding door opens onto the cockpit.

The foredeck enhances the cruising experience with a U-shaped dining area and access to a sunbathing space featuring twin sunpads and storage lockers. Below deck, the S65 accommodates eight guests in four cabins, with a separate crew cabin.

Combining distinctive styling with impressive performance, the S65 offers ample space for entertaining. Capable of speeds exceeding 30 knots, its advanced hull design ensures excellent seakeeping and a comfortable ride.
